

Amy O'Brien

Comptroller

Amy O'Brien began her career in the maritime terminal and logistics industry in 2012 and brings over a decade of experience in financial management and operational support. She joined Port Freeport in 2024 and currently serves as Controller, where she oversees financial reporting, budgeting, grant management, and compliance initiatives.

Education

Amy holds an Associate of Science in Business Administration from Alvin Community College, a Bachelor of Science in Accounting from the University of Houston–Clear Lake, and a Master of Maritime Administration and Logistics from Texas A&M University at Galveston.

Affiliations & Community Involvement

Since graduating in 2020, Amy has remained an active contributor to the Texas A&M Association of Former Students.

Personal

Outside of work, Amy enjoys spending time outdoors with her dogs Beaux and Sally. She enjoys camping, hunting, and gulf coast fishing.